

Peter & Kelly on The Way

Prayerletter October 2008

Dear prayer partner,

Thank you for your support! We realize once more how great a role you have to play, not only in getting & keeping us here, but also in praying for fruit. Yesterday we watched the new OMF docu-movie about the life of James Fraser, titled Breakthrough (available from OMF). He was an OMF missionary among the Lisu tribe who saw great spiritual breakthroughs when people back home started to pray for the Lisu with the conviction that they were given the authority by God to engage in the battle for their souls. James Fraser started sending regular prayer letters from China to England, inspiring and informing prayer warriors back home. Prompted by love, people started to earnestly pray together. Peter was greatly inspired by James Fraser when he left The Netherlands to go to missions college. We hope & pray that in due course we will be able to inspire & inform your prayers more effectively..!

Kelly has started to meet regularly with a Thai woman who wants to learn English. Pray for Noot, that she will desire to know Jesus. We are inspired by the wide range of ministry opportunities that we see in the lives of more experienced missionaries. But for the most part, we really need the Thai language in order to build relationships and communicate with people on a deeper level. We have learned the basics of reading & writing now, which is exciting, but we have much still to learn! Pray that we will be able to invest a lot of our energies in learning Thai, and that we will develop relationships where we can practice language. We are encouraged that we are getting to know some people at church better. Also, Kelly is feeling well in the second trimester of pregnancy and baby Tuck is dancing around!

Love and blessings,

Peter & Kelly + Lukas + baby Tuck

Praise with us:

For new life emerging! All well & healthy so far.

Language learning is going well, and we're enjoying it too!

Lukas is learning and growing more confident in doing things himself.

Pray with us:

For our new baby's development and health.

For safety and protection

For good recall and understanding of the Thai language.

That we would continue to build friendships with Thai friends in church.

For Kelly's involvement in teaching Sunday school.

For our field trips: Oct 24-29 to Lampang, North Thailand, and Nov 19-24 to Paak Phanang, South Thailand, where we will meet the OMF teams working there, to explore possible options for our future ministry placement – for sensitivity to God's leading to the place where He would have us live and work in the coming three years.
